Uniwork

UNIWORK aims to boost university-industry links that support sustainable socio-economic development in Central Asia (CA) by enhancing the capacities of Higher Education Institutions (HEIs) in effectively promoting employability of graduates, as well as an entrepreneurship culture amongst students, in line with the Bologna and Tempus priorities.

The project UNIWORK is co-financed by the European Commission through the Tempus programme.

What is the purpose of Uniwork?

- To transform the Career Centres of 12 Central Asian HEIs into efficient instruments to promote and support employment and entrepreneurship for students, creating a role model for other HEIs in partner countries.
- To reinforce university-enterprise relationships, developing tools and mechanisms for active involvement of enterprises and other relevant stakeholders in the Career Centres.

Who will benefit from Uniwork?

UNIWORK will address structural problems in youth employment and therefore benefit the staff of the 12 Career Centres involved as they gain new skills through training. The project results will benefit students from the partner country HEIs who are looking for job opportunities, as well as the enterprise sector of the 5 partner countries and lastly, the HEI leaders and policy makers (ministries).
